Charlee Johnson

Local has Exciting Career as Hairstylist For Movies

23 May 1990

Charleen Johnson has had an exciting career. She is the hair stylist for movies and television plays. For instance, she was at Disney Studios for a show called "Nutt House" working with Cloris Leachman and Harvey Korman, which was so crazy it was cancelled.

She then worked on a detective show called "Hard Ball" with Richard Tyson and John Ashton; "Flight" with Nancy Kwan; "Miracle Landing" with Wayne Rogers; "Beauty and The Beast," which took five weeks, with Connie Selleca and Nancy Kwan.

She worked with Jo Anderson and Ron Pelman underground in New York until two weeks before Christmas last year.

In February, she was the custom and hair stylist for a TV show a Hell Street High School called "Hull School," a musical with actress Nancy Valens as a first year teacher of an English class. The teacher hired a man to come in and observe the class to help her find out why she couldn't handle the class.

In January, she was at Santa Domingo on the Robert Redford movie "Havana" for three days on big crowd scenes in a casino.

Sunday, a day off, they went to Casa De Campo, a 200 acre resort on the other side of the island, where there were beach buses and a shopping center made of pot rock, which looks like it came from Midway 200 years ago.

Charleen Johnson is the wife of Dr. Robert A. Johnson. They live at the old Johnson Mill and are remodeling and landscaping it beautifully. Their children are Julie, 21; Bart, 19, is serving a mission in Montana; Adam, 17, Liz 15, Brad, 14, Becky, 11, and Jeanette.

They moved to Midway from Crescenta,. CA from the foothills of the Sierras, northwest of Pasadena.
